The personal care and cosmetic business sector is an innovative, vibrant and competitive arena that is coupled with a rapidly moving regulatory environment. For this reason it is essential that manufacturers, brand owners, retailers and raw material suppliers are kept abreast of the latest changes and developments. We will focus on compliance best practices, explore some of the overarching industry trends that need to be observed and learn how regulations are affecting the market now and in the future.

Whether you are a new CTFA Member or one that has been on board for some time, you will benefit from:

- Understanding how the regulatory environment is constantly changing
